I read in the San Francisco Examiner, also in the Chronicle, this morning, as you no doubt did too, that the federal government is going to build a two-mile-long atom smasher at Stanford. This means they'll have to get out the hiking club if it springs a leak.

I mention both city papers because one morning, a good many years ago, when I made my sleepy way to the kitchen, I found my mother, father and school chum Pat (Mae) Duignan huddled around the morning paper.

"Willie," said Pat in an awed voice, "it says here they've smashed the atom at Cal."

I recall my annoyed comment:

"That Examiner'll say anything to make a headline."

One time city councilman and street commissioner Francis Whitaker has been concerned for months, and has protested verbally and in writing several times, about the city street department's using the canyon on the west side of San Carlos street for a dump and material storage site. The property was given originally to the city for a park. Since writing a letter to the Forest Commission Tuesday pointing out that "a fine large pine tree is dead at the southwest corner of Block 12, probably from a combination of fill and disease," Mr. Whitaker informed the Pine Cone that he has found another dead pine at that locality. "I do hope that the commission can make effective recommendations to put a halt to this use of the property," his letter concludes. The forest commission meets Wednesday afternoon, May 6, 4:00 o'clock.

When the city council meets that same Wednesday evening, 7:45 o'clock it will have three communications from Mr. Whitaker.

Up to now Mr. Whitaker has refused to give the Pine Cone copies of his letters to the council for publication before the council meetings as a matter of courtesy to the council. But since the council has abandoned the custom of having the city clerk read aloud communications at the council meetings, Whitaker says he doesn't see how else communications can reach the public.

Here are the letters, all addressed to the city council and signed "Yours Truly, Francis Whitaker."

Your editor concurrs with Mr. Whitaker in his letter concerning the tree inspection tour. When the council adopted the policy of ren-

Voice Of America Promise Has Come True For Freedom Fighter Thomas Gaspar, U. C. Chem Student

"America did a great deal for us. Now we would like to return the favor."

So spoke young Thomas Caspar, ex-prisoner of the Communists, ex-coal miner, ex-Hungarian Freedom Fighter, who is now a chemistry student in the University of California at Berkeley.

"We are 27 Hungarian students at the University under the guidance of Professor Tobias of the chemistry department who are organizing a 'collegium' to keep alive Hungarian ideals and introduce to Americans our Hungarian heritage. One of our goals is to establish two scholarships annually for deserving American students to attend the college at Berkeley. Since all of us are where we are through American help in one degree or another, we feel that this is a concrete way to repay the favor."

Gaspar, a Carmel resident and Monterey Peninsula College student before enrolling at Berkeley, has been helped by many Americans since his arrival in Carmel in February, 1957. Only 25, his life has already been filled with enough adventure to last a lifetime.

The son of a well-to-do manufacturing family, Tom was born in Budapest and grew up in the strife- and war-torn years of the late 30's and early 40's. His father was killed during 1945 in the closing days of the war while serving with the Hungarian army in Yugoslavia.

Tom was in gymnasium, an academic high school, at the time the Communists took over in 1948. The family fortunes immediately took a decisive turn for the worse and he naturally developed a distaste for the regime. When he was 17, in 1951, he was arrested for writing and distributing anti-Communist leaflets. He was, as he puts it, "worked over" by the AVH, the dread Hungarian secret police, for

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray Leaves Monday On Mission To Orient

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray, minister of the Church of the Wayfarer, leaves Monday for a trip to the Orient, flying to Tokyo by way of Seattle and then on to Seoul, Korea. The services on this Sunday will be the last he will conduct until after his return the middle of June.

He is going on this mission, upon the invitation of the board of Missions and the Board of Evangelism of the Methodist Church and it has been underwritten by a number of families in Carmel. In Seoul he will tour churches, schools, and hospitals, speaking in several of them and then travel south to the Pusan Area where he hopes to meet the recipients of clothing sent by Carmel women under the direction of Dr. Olive Swezy.

In Japan, he will be the guest of Chinzei Gakuin, a school near Nagasaki which has been supported for many years by the Church of the Wayfarer and he will be the speaker for the religious emphasis week there. In Tokyo, his guides will be Dr. Takuo Matsumoto of Aoyama Gakuin University, a recent visitor on the Monterey Peninsula, and Dr. Glen Bruner, member of the faculty of International Christian University.

He will teach English and Social Studies. His contract has already been verified.

Patricia Ricketts, who graduated from Carmel High School in 1955, also received her elementary education at Sunset School. In her junior year at Carmel High School Pat was selected by the American Field Service as the school's exchange student, and spent the summer in Germany. At Fresno State she was named student with the highest scholastic average in the Delta Gama Sorority. She has earned her B. A. and will be awarded special teaching credentials in June. P.G. & E. Requests Removal Of Five Ocean Avenue Pines

Three requests for tree removals, one tree trimming, and one to open two streets are on the agenda for the Carmel City Council's tree tour which starts from city hall Tuesday afternoon, 4:00 o'clock.

Two of the removal requests are from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, one for cutting down four pines at Ocean and Guadalupe which they say prevent extending added 4 KV lines to relieve low voltage. Their other request is for removal of one pine and trimming limbs on another pine at Ocean and Forest "to remove hazard to 4 KV feeder."

Susanne E. Clark has asked removal of an acacia on San Antonio between Ocean and Seventh which she claims is infested with fungus growth and is leaning badly.

Mrs. George Dutton asks permission to trim two cypress trees at San Antonio and Tenth.

The Carmel Volunteer Fire Department asks the opening of Santa Fe to Fourth Avenue, and Fourth Avenue between Santa Rita and Santa Fe, expressing the view, "unopened streets are hazardous to firemen and city equipment; loss of life and property could occur."

Highlanders Buy Clark Property For Community Center And Fire House

On Monday, May 11, the Carmel Highlands Community Association, following its regular meeting in the Fire House, will have a tour of inspection of its new home.

The Mrs. William Andrews Clark property at Highway 1 and Fern Canyon has been purchased for around $35,000 by the Carmel Highlands Community Fire House Corporation. The property will function as the Highlands Fire House and as headquarters for the Highlands Community Association.

Built in the early '20's by Frank Wickman, widely known musician and teacher of piano, the red tile roofed Spanish type house was through two decades famed for the hospitality and musical entertainments of its owner. Upon Mr. Wickman's death in 1946, the house with its acre of grounds was purchased by Mrs. William Andrews Clark of New York, a patron of art and music. It was Mrs. Clark who made it possible for musicians from other parts of the world to live in the house during California sojourns, and the last group to have spent the summer there was the Paganini Quartet. That was about five years ago and since then the house has been idle.

According to an old time resident, the families of the Highlands commenced community meetings some thirty years ago, but the Carmel Highlands Community Association was not formally named until 1946 and since that year have been holding regular meetings in the Fire House. The present membership, with Fritz Hartung as president, Miss Edna Paratt, vice-president and Betty E. Finley as secretary-treasurer, is 60.

Plans for the property includes re-modeling, to an extent, the five bedrooms, each with its own bath,

CARMEL LITTLE LEAGUE OFF TO GOOD START

Two mighty home runs by Maynard Peterson, Boys' Town pitcher, featured Monday night's opening game in the Carmel Little League which was won by Boys' Town, 14 to 8. Besides stroking a pair of four-master, the classy little Mission Fields hurler fashioned a nifty four-hit pitching performance. Lew McCreery's Sports got off to a good start against last season's champs by piling up four runs in the first inning only to see the lead wiped out in the second heat as Peterson, Harold Williams, and Rich Oleson drove across four runs. A big Boys' Town fourth inning put the game out of reach of the Sports as the clothiers crossed the platter 7 times on the strength of a bases-loaded homer by pitcher Peterson and well stroked doubles by Clint Macy and Mike Paul. Top hitter for Sport Shop was Pete McArthur who hit a pair of singles in three trips to the plate. Pitchers Howdy King, Holly Garcia, and Pete McArthur took turns trying to silence the big Boys' Town bats which were humming for 10 safe hits. Tom Leutzinger pitched the last two innings for Boys' Town and did a fine job of preserving the lead racked up behind Maynard Peterson.

Pilot Market got off to a winning start at the expense of Turner & McEldowney in Tuesday night's game as Tim Mosolf and George Dubetts combined pitching talents to hold T&M to four hits. Pilots won the game, 9 to 6, with big rallies in the first and fifth innings. In the opening canto, Pilots pushed across five markers on the strength of five free passes and singles by Ronnie Parsons and Tim Mosolf. In the fifth, the winners picked up two more runs by cashing in on three walks and a sacrifice. Turner & McEldowney hit the board in the second frame as Richard Wise chipped in with a single and Don Blanks hit a booming double. The fourth was a big inning for the bricklayers as they cashed in on three walks and Ronnie Berry's single to chalk up three markers. Berry was the top hitter for the losers, clubbing a single and double in three chances. Pitcher Tim Mosolf led the Pilot swingers with two blows in three trips to the plate. Ring Guy and Rick Wilkerson pitched for Turner & McEldowney, allowing four hits between them but the plate was jumping around and they gave up a dozen free trips to first base.

Tonight's Little League action matches Pilots with Sport Shop while Friday's game brings together Boys' Town and Wilder & Jones. Saturday the Farm Teams take over with the 1958 Champions, Little Sparrows taking on Nikko's in a 10:00 o'clock game, Special Delivery challenging Derek Rayne at Noon, and Village Inn versus Rockets at 2:00 o'clock. All games at the Carmel Little League park.

JIM BROWN'S TWO-HITTER UPSETS PACIFIC GROVE

A fine pitching performance by freshman Jim Brown gave Carmel High's varsity baseball team a coveted 4-1 win over league-leading Pacific Grove at the Padre diamond Tuesday afternoon. Before being upset by Carmel, the Breakers had won four straight league games and were threatening [illegible] section baseball chase. In pitching the winning two-hitter, the slender righthander struck out six and gave up five free trips to first base. Archie Stewart, Pacific Grove's classy southpaw, ran into streaks of wildness which kept him in hot water for most of the seven-inning route. Archie allowed five hits, issued nine free passes, and struck out 7 Padre swingers.

Carmel got off to a fast start by hitting the scoreboard for two markers in the first frame as Dale Dawson led off with a single and scored as Stewart gave up a single to Dave Hansen and issued walks to Ron Faia, Larry Dufur, and Ron Hinchcliff. Pacific Grove picked up its only run in the first inning on the strength of a single and two infield putouts.

Fine fielding plays by Ron Hinchcliff, Walt Helm, Dale Dawson, and Bud Cunningham served to keep the Breaker offensive in check and make the going easier for the poised freshman hurler. Dave Hansen stroked a solid two-for-three to lead the Carmel batters, one of his blows going for a double. Dale Dawson, Bud Cunningham, and Jim Brown also hit safely for the Padres.

Carmel travels to Felton this Friday for a league tussle with San Lorenzo High. The Padres just barely clipped the Cougars, 2 to 1, in the first meeting this season and anticipate a tough battle on San Lorenzo's home field. Carmel's junior-varsity will also make the trip to San Lorenzo in quest of its third straight league victory.

BABE RUTH BASEBALL IN CARMEL

Carmel is entering into its second season of Babe Ruth Baseball. The league is known as Monterey Peninsula Babe Ruth League with six teams at present, with Pacific Grove operating one club and Monterey the remaining four. This league has been in operation for six years and has done well in promoting athletic endeavor, good citizenship and possibly above all, has assisted tremendously in arresting Juvenile Delinquency at the source.

An official team is comprised of fifteen players, five must be age thirteen. Not over five fifteen year old players with the balance of the team being either thirteen or fourteen years.

The club this year is being managed by Bob "Curley" Henney, who played his Professional Ball under the direction of catcher Steve O'Neill, late manager of the American League Detroit Tigers. As an infielder, Bob established himself here (after World War II) as being one of the best glovemen to play in this area and helped make baseball better known on the Peninsula, with crowds of 900-1200 on Sundays.

Any boys with full desire to improve their game skill will be helped if there is indication of good hustle, but time is quite the factor and kids just don't have the time any more; what with TV-Movies and the general lack of physical ambition to keep oneself in shape.

We will appreciate your cutting out the 1959 Game Schedule (in this paper) and attending at least the home games at our beautiful baseball park at Carmel High School.

As the City of Carmel does not sponsor a recreation program for its townspeople we are necessarily obliged to work with the School District Recreation Commission, which is quite limited in funds, even to the use of a groundskeeper at game time. Two sections of bleacher seats are being loaned from Fort Ord area and will be available for your enjoyment at Babe Ruth games only. A public address system is used at all games, making your stay more interesting.

Last and certainly not least, we wish to thank the Carmel Merchants whose "Firm Names" will be representing them on the play-six weeks prior to his trial in district court. His court-appointed defense attorney took only three minutes to present the defense case, which consisted mainly of a scornful recapitulation as to the guilt of this "delinquent" coupled with a half-hearted appeal for leniency. The verdict of "guilty" was a foregone conclusion.

Sentenced to five year's imprisonment, Gaspar was carted off to Maria Nostra, a former monastery converted into a communist prison. After a year and a half within its walls, he found the prison life intolerable and volunteered to be a coal miner. For the rest of the term of his imprisonment, he dug coal for the state.

Upon his release in March, 1956, he was immediately drafted into the Hungarian army. Because of his past subversive record, he was considered not trustworthy enough to be a combat soldier and was assigned to a labor batallion, and found himself back in the coal mines in the country 60 miles from Budapest.

When the Revolution began, Tom was a member of a group of thirty soldiers who "dealt with" their communist commanding officer and headed for Budapest. Thirteen of them arrived, the rest having been killed along the way.

During the weeks of street-fighting raging throughout Budapest, Gaspar lived in the Hungarian army barracks during the day and took to the back alleys and rooftops at night. He fought on with his friends until hope was abandoned and then walked to the border, to cross over into Austria during the middle of the night with one of the last groups of refugees to leave Hungary.

While in a refugee camp in Salzburg, he came to the attention of the World Council of Churches who undertook to sponsor his entry into America. After arriving at Camp Kilmer, N. J., he came on to join his cousin, Bill Wells, in Carmel.

On his arrival, he met Chuck Downes, then director of religious education of the Church of the Wayfarer, who took an immediate liking to the quiet, shy, lonesome young man. The next day, Downes assisted him in enrolling in Monterey Peninsula College and his Americanization began.

Gaspar speaks with great feeling about the helping hands extended by Carmelites: the family who took him into their home on his arrival, the people who gave him part-time work to provide himself with clothes and bus-fare and school books, and, most of all, to the Carmel lady who is presently assisting him to attend the university, where he has maintained a B plus average in his advanced chemistry course.

After his graduation with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1960, his future plans involve further study to attain his doctorate. Then he hopes to become a professor of chemistry in a university with a chance to do original research.

Along the way, Gaspar has taken great strides toward becoming an American. He has succumbed utterly to the great national hobby of photography, drives his own small car to Carmel on weekends with great relish, and maintains an active interest in the Boy Scouts as an adviser to the Explorer Scouts.

His major problem is how to get his mother from Budapest to America. In order to do this, he plans to spend the summer months at that most American of all jobs: pumping gas in a filling station. The money thus earned will be posted as a guarantee with the country issuing his mother's visa.

"When I used to listen to the Voice of America broadcasting from Tangiers," Gaspar says in his almost impeccable English, "I had a mental picture of America as a bustling place of tremendous opportunity for everyone who had the energy and will to make the most of it. I have found this to be true in almost every respect."

And Thomas Gaspar has energy and will to spare.

COOKIE MONTH

May is Cookie Month for Carmel, Mrs. Isabelle Terhune, chairman of the Carmel Red Cross Gray Ladies, reminds cookie makers. The Carmel Gray Ladies will need 240 dozen cookies to take with them on their weekly visits to the Fort Ord Hospital and Recreation Center. If groups of individuals can help in this effort, cookies, one dozen or ten, will be gratefully received at the Carmel Red Cross Chapter House, Eighth and Dolores Streets, Monday and Tuesday mornings before 11:00 o'clock Mrs. Terhune says.

Boyer Music And Art At S. F. Institute

Carmelites Gilbert Boyer, concert pianist, and Louise Cardiero Boyer, painter, will share in a double event at Music and Arts Institute of San Francisco, 2622 Jackson Street, Tuesday night, at 8:15 o'clock, when Mr. Boyer will be presented in a concert for the benefit of the college and an exhibition of contemporary paintings by Mrs. Boyer will be opened.

Mr. Boyer's program is the same he played here in his Sunday afternoon concert at Sunset Auditorium on March 1.

Gilbert Boyer is the organizer and director of the Chamber Music Society of Carmel, assistant director and soloist for the annual Carmel Bach Festival, and a member of the Carmel Art Commission. Louise Cardiero Boyer, who founded the Carmel School of Art in 1954, presently devotes as much time as possible to illustrations for specific purposes and to her paintings which are shown in leading museums and have won many prizes. The exhibit will remain at the Institute through June 14.

Shellfish Quarantine Effective May First

The yearly quarantine of mussels for human consumption goes into effect tomorrow as a protection to Californians from the highly toxic poison present in the shellfish during the summer and early autumn, according to Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director.

The quarantine, established along the entire California coastal shore, will continue to October 31.

The director also warned Californians to be cautious in the preparation of clams for summer meals during this period. Clams should be cleaned and washed thoroughly before cooking and that all dark parts (where poison concentrates during the quarantine period) should be discarded.

The poison, found in plankton which serves as food for mussels and clams, is an alkaloid such as strychnine and can prove fatal to persons eating toxic shellfish.

dering decisions on the tour, we protested verbally and so did Mr. Whitaker. Several months experience of "special meeting" tree tours have shown that the problems he foresaw have developed.

Gentlemen:

It seems to me that the case of the Surf Tides Lodge Pine Tree gives the Council a most excellent reason for delaying official decisions of tree and other matters until the regularly scheduled meeting.

For many years, the "Tour of Inspection" was just that, an opportunity for the Council to visit and inspect, but not to decide. There was a twenty-four hour breathing spell before the decision was made, at a public meeting at the City Hall.

The present method, of a regularly scheduled "special meeting," to all intents and purposes, eliminates the general public from any participation or discussion. I tried it once, and had to pursue the council for seven blocks before it paused briefly on a street corner, a most undignified procedure.

About the only person who can attend such a meeting is the applicant, often with the trite story of "diseased, dangerous, leaning—you know the rest only too well." With a decision to be made, it may be easier to say "yes" under pressure than "no."

If for any reason ,a councilman could not go on the tour, there was always a full day for him to go and visit the spot, and to familiarize himself with the problem before making a decision. Under the present method, the decision is made, and in the case of the Surf Tides Lodge Pine Tree, even a reconsideration was nearly too late.

I urge the Council, in the public interest, to abandon the practice of calling the tour a "special meeting."

Gentlemen:

I would like to call to your attention to two recent driveway paving jobs in this part of town which seem at variance to the ordinance covering such work.

A driveway at the west end of Vista Street, providing entrance to the Woods School is twenty-nine feet wide. In addition, the paving is right up to the base of a City tree, instead of allowing a six inch space around the tree.

A driveway at the second house south of Vista on the east side of Mission is twenty feet wide.

I do not recall seeing any variances granted in either of these cases, and since the ordinance governing driveways provides for the issuance of a permit and final inspection of the job, I hope that this does not represent a general trend in paving city property.

Gentlemen:

After seeing the destruction caused by the Pebble Beach-Pacific Grove interchange on Highway 1, I am concerned over the possibility of a repeat performance at the Carpenter Street junction.

Since the route of the Freeway is clearly established, there seems no possibility of changing it. The interchange, however, should be clearly understood in the planning stage, not waiting until contracts are let.

The Carpenter Street interchange will not only seriously affect the traffic approaching Carmel, but will also affect City property at the junction. It would therefor seem quite proper for the City to obtain full information on the structure and approach roads, as well as having a model so that the full scope of the interchange can be visualized.

I hope that the City Council will take all measures needed to help minimize the destruction of the approach to Carmel.

Pine Cone received the following Telegram from Washington, D.C. Tuesday:

New post office for Carmel. Bids requested between May 1 and June 18. Planned building approximately twice the size of present post office. To be 10,500 square feet interior space, 600 loading platform, 2,000 vehicle maneuvering space, also parking space for patrons. Post Office Department has no site under option at present time.

Charles M. Teague,
Member of Congress

Charles Lee, owner of the present post office building thinks he can acquire enough neighboring property to meet the new requirements and will submit a bid.

Charles Hummel has been thinking about the property on Dolores Street opposite Nielsen's Market. He is not available at the moment to say how far the thinking has gone.

Bud Clark keeps saying that no, Leslie Fenton doesn't want to build a post office at the rear of the Fenton Block, but was in a state of obvious suspense to learn what the specifications would be.

Philippe Buhler's Concertina At Chamber Music Society Concert, A Piece One Would Gladly Hear Again

BY EBEN WHITLESEY

Unusual variety of musical styles, periods, instrumentation, conductors and soloists was compressed into an hour and a half's time and a small auditorium last Sunday afternoon. The Carmel Chamber Music Society, under the general direction of Gilbert Boyer, gave a most interesting and effective concert at the Carmel Woman's Club.

Featured on the program was the work of a contemporary composer who has made this area his home, Philippe Buhler. His Concertina for piano and Chamber orchestra, with Mr. Boyer at the piano, provided a pleasant example of modern French music with provocative instrumental effects. The first movement contained some slightly Oriental overtones, while plucked strings and percussion tones provided color and life to the music which was not particularly dissonant or challenging. There were appealing melodic forms and a feeling of color and motion, albeit no attempt at profundity. I had the feeling that the piece was without an end, but one must be prepared for uncermonious leave-taking when he moves among the moderns. Judgments of modern music on first hearing are not worth much; but this was a piece I would gladly hear again.

The Telemann Suite in A Minor for flute and strings was the opening number, serving to introduce Katherine Thompson, 13, one of the talented winners of a competition held by the Society. She is a very capable young musician with a sweet tone and an air of knowing what she is about. Firm support was provided by the orchestra. If her playing was not aggressive or completely self-assured, it rather gained from modesty. Yet the listener was not in doubt.

A second contemporary composer, Wayne Barlow, was represented as the orchestra played his The Winter's Past. Lloyd Clapper was the very competent oboe soloist, while the orchestra was ably led by Joseph Axup. The music has a nostalgic, reminiscent mood, employing very pleasant thematic material. As with the other contemporary work, its modernism was nothing of the sort to jangle nerves or pluck the vitals of listeners. This was very well received by the audience.

There were 23 players listed on the program, and a couple more were given credit by announcement, so it was not exactly a chamber music group.

As a concluding work we heard Mozart's delightful Klavier Concerto No. 23 with Stephanie Craviatto, another audition winner, at the piano, and the orchestra under the leadership of Lloyd Clapper. After a somewhat diffident beginning, the music gained vigor and assurance. The soloist had a firm touch and an easy manner of playing. The charming second movement seemed to be taken a little too slowly, at the expense of cohesion. The spirited third movement developed very expressive playing by the soloist. Miss Craviatto plays with sensitive understanding, and one had the feeling that she was in her element and not on the defensive, as sometimes is the case with particularly promising young people.

The entire production, particularly in view of the number of performers and the variety of conductors, was run off with smooth dispatch. Very competent players presented interesting music in a manner which was consistently satisfying.

Irving Lundborg Has Broker - Industry Education Display

The current exhibit in the window of Irving Lundborg & Co. in Carmel is sponsored by Madison Fund, Inc., fully diversified closed-end investment fund, as a part of the New York Stock Exchange Broker - Industry Educational Program.

The unusual part of this exhibit, according to Edward A. Merkle, Madison Fund president, is that rather than demonstrating the scope and diversification of a single company, it represents a cross-section of American industry selected for its investment quality by one of the nation's leading closed-end funds.

"Purchase of a share of Madison Fund, or any other of the closed-end companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange, automatically provides the investor with a diversified investment consisting of fractional shares in many different companies," Mr. Merkle stated. "For many small investors, this is an extremely practical way to invest. And like any N.Y. Stock Exchange stock, it can be purchased through the Monthly Investment Plan in sums as low as $40 per month."

The Broker - Industry Educational Plan, created and conducted by Burdick-Rowland Associates, constantly rotates 13 special exhibits every four weeks among the 72 participating New York Stock Exchange brokers in the west.

NEED PRINTING?

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

An eye-witness report, Red China Today, will be given by Mr. Felix Greene to members of the Carmel Woman's Club at their general meeting Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Mr. Greene was born in Britain but has been a resident of America for nearly 20 years. His present home is in California, and he broadcasts many news commentaries from the west coast, traveling constantly to keep abreast of events. In connection with a business trip to Hong Kong (he is the head of an importing company) Mr. Greene decided that this was an excellent opportunity to observe conditions inside Red China, which he was able to do with the blessing of both Great Britain and the United States. He visited the cities and the countryside, talked with farmers, factory workers, educators, professional and military men. He observed collective farms, schools and hospitals.

Mr. Greene returned to America firmly convinced that Red China is not tied solidly to the Soviet Union and that any Russian hold on it can be broken.

A Cambridge man, Mr. Greene became affiliated with the British Broadcasting Corporation and was sent on special missions to many parts of the world. His father was economic advisor to the Brazilian government, his uncle Secretary of the British Admiralty—an associate and close friend of Sir Winston Churchill.

Assisting Mrs. Samuel B. Moore, hospitality chairman, during the tea hour will be Mrs. C. U. Fonteneau, Mrs. Edna Lewis Hoen, Mrs. G. Paul, Mrs. Duncan Murray, Mrs. L. J. Fletcher, Mrs. R. H. Kircher and Mrs. F. L. Kundsen.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

God's law of justice and mercy will be brought out at Christian Science Services Sunday.

"Everlasting Punishment" is the topic of the Lesson-Sermon ,a central theme of which is set forth in the Golden Text: "Evil pursueth sinners: but to the rigtheous good shall be repayed." (Proverbs 13:21).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (22:30-31): "Justice requires reformation of the sinner. Mercy cancels the debt only when justice approves."

Among the Bible passages to be read in this from Psalms (51:1): "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

RICHARDSON CANADA-BOUND

Dick Richardson will leave Carmel on Saturday for an extended trip through Canada, visiting Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg to buy Scottish tartan fashions for men and women for his Casual Shop. Dick is particularly interested in the current vogue for 'muted' tartans, known in Scotland as the faded or ancient tartans. The colors are subtle and sophisticated and, he believes, will be in tremendous demand this summer. Dick expects to be away about a month.

ARE WE TRYING TO GET OUT OF THE PASSENGER BUSINESS?

Some people seem to think we don't want to run passenger trains.

This is a matter of great concern to us because running trains is our business and we expect to be running them for a long time.

So we want you to know just how we feel about the important passenger side of our business:

1 We want to run passenger trains that you need and use. We welcome passenger business and we hope more people will ride our trains.

2 We want our passenger trains to be good trains. We think our passenger service is as good as any in the country... and we intend to keep it that way.

3 We feel, however, that it is sensible to limit our service to trains and schedules which many people need and use, and to discontinue those which few people use and which are obviously no longer needed.

More and more people are traveling by automobile and by air, fewer by train. But we have not been sitting idly by while the public's travel habits changed. We've spent millions of dollars in the last ten years on new passenger train equipment, and more millions promoting our service.

In spite of our efforts, some of our trains have been carrying very few passengers.

We think it is better for everybody—for you and for us—to reduce or eliminate poorly patronized train service which causes heavy losses. Such losses become a burden on freight shippers and industry, and impair our ability to serve this great and growing Western region.

Struck from the splintered light and lifted free.
There is no flaw within the splendid archway,
No deviation from its perfect form—
It swings aloft across earth's tangled pathway
The archetype of promise after storm.

San Franciscans Write Encouragement To Admiral Fisher

Admiral C. W. Fisher, chairman of the Carmel Citizens Committee, received the following letter this week from a San Francisco resident, signed by 21 other San Franciscans.

"I do hope sincerely that you will be able to have your wish granted to keep Carmel unique and beautiful," Winifred Smallwood writes.

"It is one of the few places left where one can retreat to have both mind and body refreshed.

"'One cannot live by bread alone', and far too often the financial side of a proposition is considered, when certain things in life are beyond price.

"I live in the city, but face a small park, a block square. This I know is worth its weight in gold, but the city officials fortunately know the value of this to people, and I and many others are grateful.

"I am adding the names of a few friends, who I know will be glad to add their signatures to mine."

The names: Hazel McLelland, R. Goldsberry, J. Mylin, A. Clinton, B. E. Christensen, Ethel A. Molteni, C. A. Kellie, J. A. Geddes, A. Anderson, Virginia Robias, Ann Sweeney, Rita Sutherland, Fleet Thompson, Coey C. Jones, Janice Johanesen, William Purnell, Kenneth Haefinan, Harry Johanesen, Bert Hugo, Al Tait, Doris Van Alstine.

Elise Beaton Has One-Artist Show At Artists Guild

An exhibition of the watercolors of Elise deCelles Beaton (Mrs. Matthew Beaton) is being shown during the entire month of May on the Mezzanine Gallery of the Galleries of the Artists Guild of America.

Elise Beaton retired from teaching French and Latin in the Carmel High School last June, and took up her life-long hobby of painting, as a professional career. She has been an exhibiting member of the Carmel Art Association since 1950, and has shown her work at the Illinois State Fair, the Monterey County Fair, and at local galleries. She gave one-artist shows in Visalia, California, and at Town House Carmel Foundation.

This coming summer will be her fourth as artist in residence at the ghost town of Bodie, California, where thousands of tourists have seen her work. Her watercolors have been placed in private homes and offices in California, Texas, and Pennsylvania.

Ray Strong, well known painter of western subjects, will show his oil paintings in the Lower Gallery of the Artists Guild of America through May. He has exhibited widely in the East as well as in California.

Audio-Texts, Taped Books, Opens Office In Carmel

A new California Corporation, opened its main office in Carmel this week. Peninsula Audio-Texts, Inc. was conceived several months ago by a small group of Pebble Beach and Carmel residents as a non-profit attempt to bring all kinds of reading matter to people who are unable to read.

The best books of classical and modern times are being recorded on tape so that people of all ages can listen to them at any time of the day or night—in busses, hospitals, automobiles, in bed—on portable recorders that can be carried around and used while one is waiting in doctors' offices or airports or frustrated in traffic.

Reels of tape could bring an elderly person For Whom The Bell Tolls this week and next week be exchanged for Madam Bovary, the next week, The Story of the Bible, etc. The tapes would be played on an inexpensive recorder.

Peninsula Audio-Texts is owned by those "members" whose gifts and contributions comprise the working capital that originally purchases the equipment and tapes that will be sold by mail throughout the country. Once started, the repeated service charges for recording would comprise the income to keep the corporation self-sustaining.

The Federal Internal Revenue Department has recognized gifts for purposes as this as being income tax deductible, and application has already been made for official recognition of Peninsula Audio-Texts as being a tax exempt entity.

President of the new corporation is Stanley Oakes of Carmel; Executive Secretary is Daniel Kohlsaat; and Secretary and Treasurer is John Keppelman. Besides these, the other directors are John Payne, Stephen Whitney, Allen Knight, Mrs. Dan Kohlsaat, Prescott Allen and James Glaser. Mailing address for the company is Box 4811, Carmel.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

Ruth Galvin Thornburg, Librarian

We're going to talk about fiction today. That's what we have the best of this week anyway. Good books in non-fiction too, of course, like I Am Anastasia by a Grand-Duchess of Russia, and the latest House and Garden Book on Decorating things. Oh yes, and Fighting Bulls by Angus McNab, which brings us to the logical question of why are people so interested in bull fighting these days. And we should just mention a book entitled Buy or Rent by William Greenwald, which might help you to settle this question once and for all, a thing we all have to do sooner or later in this life. So now are we ready for fiction?

A beautiful and serene novel is Claire Serrat by I. A. R. Wylie. It is the story of a young woman who was hurt in a car accident in Provence and of her slow recovery in an abandoned village high in the mountains there.

The 1957 Prix Goncourt went to a book which has been translated into English this year and published under its English title, The Law. It was written by Roger Vailland and it is not a first novel but rather one in a long series of well written novels, plays, and essays. The Law is a story of love and intrigue in southern Italy.

A gay book is Nymph and Shepherd by Richard Cavendish. Laid in England, it is said to be an antidote to the "angry young men" school of writing. Enjoyable reading for a summer's evening.

Brendan Behan was born in 1923, and from the age of 16 years onward he was in and out of various English jails and houses of correction with some frequency. He was for a time in a Borstal Institution which is the English equivalent of our house for delinquents. His latest book is called Borstal Boy and is an autobiographical novel about English delinquents. His writing has been compared to that of the late Dylan Thomas, and from his photograph on the jacket of the book, he appears to resemble Thomas in some ways, mostly perhaps in an obvious lack of grooming. This book was written in the language of the working classes because it is about the working classes, and Behan says, "It's no good writing about working people in somebody's else's language, is it now?" Another English story is My Fellow Devils by L. P. Hartley. This one is concerned with the world of motion picture making in England, and with the marriage of Margaret Pennefather and Colum McInnes, an actor. Our final English writer today is Aubrey Menen, and his new book is called The Fig Tree. It is a clever book, telling the story of a young scientist and his concern with the problem of overpopulation on this earth. His discovery of a chemical which will increase the yield of plants and fruit trees is complicated by the fact that the fruits of these treated trees prove to be a powerful aphrodisiac.

To Germany for our last novel of the week, this one by Brigitte Von Tessin and called The Bastard. This is a story laid in 17th century France in the court of Louis XIV. It's another of those big books, but well worth while, all 724 pages of it.

Almost all of our inside stairs are now covered with carpeting. Peace, it's wonderful!

Boyer Art Students In Town House Show, Also Tolmie Puppets

The May art exhibit, opening at the Carmel Foundation Town House on Tuesday, will show paintings by three artists currently studying with Louise Cardeiro Boyer, all with quite different backgrounds.

Virginia Fry, some of whose work was seen last month at Ring's in Monterey, developed her interest in painting in a somewhat roundabout way. As a science major in college she studied anatomy, gaining a foundation for figure drawing, and after graduation, did scientific drawing professionally. During the war she taught woodcarving in rehabilitation work for the Army. For the past two years she has studied with Mrs. Boyer.

Ruth Tanaka was largely self-taught until she came into Mrs. Boyer's class a year ago. Talented also in music, she is working on the piano with Heinrich Bender in Monterey. Fanchon Freeman studied painting in the east, and since coming to Carmel has worked with Mrs. Boyer and Clarence Bates for several years, interested in getting a contemporary approach.

On Wednesday the Carmel Foundation program at Town House will be a puppet show produced and directed by Blanche Tolmie. The play is translated and adapted for puppets from a 15th century French play, The Comedy of the Washtub. The players are Pauline Benton, Carl Bensberg and Blanche Tolmie. Three o'clock is curtain time.

Studio Rehearsing Two Musicals

The Seven Year Itch continues on stage on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings at 8:30 o'clock with that particular brand of sophisticated nonsense which delights audiences.

At the same time, two new shows are being prepared for summer audiences, both musical type productions, one a musical revue of satritic songs, dances, and sketches similar to the successful "8 and Run" of last summer, and the other a "book musical" Oh Kay by George and Ira Gershwin as a musical burlesque of the 1920's.

Try-outs have been held this week, and various actors, singers, and dancers are being considered to be brought in specially for the summer shows. Rehearsals for "Whoops," the musical revue, will begin May 9, and The Studio Theatre on Dolores will be rocking with the agonies of singers and dancers being put through their paces for the June 20 opening. The Seven Year Itch will play through the first week-end in June.

All the income is yours
The money you invest in municipal bonds works harder for you — because it works only for you. None of the interest you earn is deducted for Federal Income Tax. You don't even report it.
If you are in a high, or even in a medium, tax bracket, the tax-free municipal interest you earn may be worth much more than you think. A tax-free yield of 3½% is equivalent to a taxable yield of 7% for your income that is in the $16,000 to $18,000 bracket.
At today's market, Tax-free bonds offer attractive yields and the opportunity to increase the stability and safety of your income.

Made Rector of N.Y. Church

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Allen of Casanova and Ninth streets have just received word from their son, the Reverend J. C. Michael Allen, that he has been appointed rector of St. Mark's in the Bouwerie, New York City, one of the oldest Protestant Churches in the United States, and famed for its retention of some of the early Dutch customs. Mr. Allen was called to the rectorship of St. Mark's from Grace Church, also in New York. He was educated at Harvard University and the Sorbonne. Before entering the Episcopal Seminary at Cambridge, Massachusetts, he was an editor of Look Magazine. The Allens, who have three young children, write that they are delighted with the old rectory (the original structure built early in the 19th century) with, what is rare in New York City, its spacious garden intact. Rev. Allen has many friends in Carmel made through his frequent visits to his parents.

The Plaxtons' Reward

City Tax Collector Arthur M. Plaxton and Mrs. Plaxton drove down to Riverside over the weekend to visit the Donald Browns (Betty Plaxton) and their three grandchildren, Julie, 18 months old, Bruce, four years old and Mark, aged three. It was the Plaxton's first visit to Don's and Betty's new home. Art says that they were greeted with three tiny shining faces and the trusting "What did you bring me?" Well worth the 800 odd miles drive.

Katy Wins Again

Carmel High School senior Katy Fry, the daughter of Mrs. Marie V. Fry, came in third in the Bank of America Zone Honors competition for high school seniors in Monterey, San Benito, San Luis Obispo and Santa Cruz Counties, held in Salinas last Thursday.

The winners of the Achievement Awards were selected by a panel which included Dr. J. F. Ching, president of Hartnell College, Dr. Joseph D. Blascow, professor at the navy post-graduate school in Monterey; Fred Lucksinger, mayor of San Luis Obispo; George S. Gadsby, Jr., of Salinas; Frank Degen of Watsonville and Mrs. Russell Scott of Salinas. Katy's award in the Fine Arts field was $25.

Earlier this month Katy was the winner of the California Savings and Loan Outstanding Student Award. She received $100 and a bronze medallion. The award entitles Katy to participate in a second California Savings and Loan contest. She will go to San Jose on May 23 where she will compete in writing a paper on the functions of the Savings and Loan Association. Should she win she will be awarded $1,000.

Katy looks forward to attending the University of California where she plans to major in chemistry, and continue her music as an extra-curricular activity.

Panhellenic Fashions

More than 200 high school and junior college seniors from public and private schools on the Peninsula attended the Panhellenic Campus Fashion Show held at Monterey Peninsula College Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Gleb Drujini, president of Monterey Peninsula Panhellenic, presided and introduced the speakers, Miss Joan (Tony) Hamilton of Carmel, a Junior at the University of California, and Elizabeth Rogers, a sorority sister of Tony's. The object of the meeting was to acquaint college-bound girls with the mechanics of sorority rushing and the advantages of membership. Tony, who graduated from Carmel High in 1956 was enthusiastic and humorous in giving her pointers to the young listeners, many of whom were accompanied by their mothers. "Most western college campuses are 'hilly'" Tony said, "So, when you are trecking from one sorority house to another during rush week, take along a pair of flats, carry your heels and pamper your feet as you journey from one house to another. There is a Panhellenic headquarters on every major West Coast campus to start you off. Go it alone, the committee in each house is interested in you as an individual, girls travelling in twos and threes confuse the issue. Remember you are going to a new world and your sorority is there to orient you."

Reassuring anxiously listening mothers, Tony stated that house rules for freshmen were strict as to hours as well as behavior.

Campus Fashions were shown by Gladys McCloud who introduced the 24 models, seniors from Carmel, Pacific Grove, Monterey, and Salinas, and Junipero Serra High Schools; Santa Catalina and Palma Schools for Girls; Hartnell and Monterey Peninsula Colleges.

Dessert was served by Panhellenic members. There were three door prizes, merchandise orders on the Gladys McCloud Shop for Girls, two given by Monterey Bay Panhellenic and one by Mrs. McCloud. The winners were Beverly Stollich of Palma High School, Maureen McDonald of Junipero Serra High School and Lana Green of Pacific Grove High School. A fourth prize was given to Wendy Draper of Carmel High whose name was drawn second but who had left for her home because of illness.

There are 31 national sororities, members of Panhellenic, and the Monterey Bay organization has a membership of 65.

Bensberg Summer Plans

The Bensbergs are preparing to leave their Carmel home on May 16 for their annual visit to Europe. Carl and his 9 year old son, Gerhard, will fly over the North Pole this time on an S A S plane. Arriving in Copenhagen, the two will go directly to the factory where they will pick up their waiting Volkswagen and then they will follow their own gypsy trail through beautiful Bavaria, Yugoslavia, Albania, Italy and finally Vienna. There they will be joined by Helmut, Gerhard's brother and Carl's other adopted son. (Carl adopted the two orphaned boys in 1955). Helmut who is 18 now is completing a four year apprenticeship to a Vienesse dental technician and looks forward to joining his father and his brother in Carmel as soon as he has completed his studies. Gerhard has just about finished his second year at the Junipero Serra school. In Vienna this summer he will return to the internat (a private boarding school) which he attended last summer. While the two boys are hard at work at lessons Carl will take the cure at Bad Gastein and travel at leisurly pace through southern Europe, pausing for music festivals along the way. In Vienna he plans to hear the famous Boys' Choir in the Royal Chapel where members of the Vienna Philharmonic form the orchestra for each Sunday's high mass.

The travelers will return to Carmel, by ship to New York and then across the country in the new Volkswagen, in time for Gerhard to be back at his desk at Junipero Serra School. Mr. Bensberg plans to bring back many transparencies, particularly of the scenes and folk of Albania and Yugoslavia.

OES Honors Mrs. Moody

On Wednesday evening The Carmel Chapter O.E.S. No. 581 entertained Mrs. James Moody, Deputy Grand Matron of the 45th District on her official visit. It was a gala and beautiful affair, Mrs. Moody being escorted to the East before Chapter opened.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, Worthy Matron, and Wm. Giles, Worthy Patron. Among the visitors attending was Mrs. Frank Gould of Hollister, Deputy Grand Matron of the 44th District O.E.S. who was honored by escort. Others escorted were visiting Worthy Matrons and Worthy Patrons: Mrs. Wm. Ives, Monterey Chapter, Mrs. Wm. O'Neil, Ocean Spray Chapter, Mrs. Roy M. Allen, El Gabilan Chapter, Mrs. H. M. Stufflebaum, Reveille Chapter, Mrs. Roy Nilsen, La Pso Chapter, Mrs. Hazel E. Martin, Magnolia Chapter, Chester Stalter, Monterey, Frank Terry, El Gabilan, Gale Bode, Reveille, August Gubser, Magnolia.

Mrs. Percy Cracknell, Grand Chapter Committee member, and Mr. James Moody were introduced by Mrs. Roberts.

At the close of the meeting the officers all joined in a presentation ceremony in the form of a coronation. Mrs. Moody was crowned "Queen of the May" by Mrs. Roberts, who then curtsied charmingly and stood by to hold a May basket, which was filled for the Queen by the officers with gifts inside small french bouquets as they passed around a maypole. Mrs. Moody made a truly regal Queen in her beautiful green gown, and bejeweled crown of gold as she descended the stairs to the banquet room, escorted by Mr. Richard Ellis, Sentinel.

The guests found the banquet room a veritable Spring Garden. The lace covered buffet table was bowered by pink satin-covered May poles, with an arch across the top and great bowls of lilac, pink roses, and Australian ti were everywhere. The banquet room was presided over by the following hosts and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKinstry, Mrs. Harold Lewis, Mrs. Donald Staniford, Mrs. Paul Takawa, Mrs. Orley Holmes, Mr. Richard Ellis, Mr. Norman Winslow and Mr. Sam Coleman.

Open House Monday At Stanley Appliances

Carmelites are invited to attend Monday's opening of the Stanley Appliance Company, formerly Wilder and Jones Appliances on San Carlos street, south of Ocean, and they will be greeted by the new owner, Fred Stanley.

Fred, the son of the late Carl Stanley who was for 28 years general manager of the old Del Monte Hotel, attended Sunset and Carmel High Schools. When his family moved to Fresno he completed his high school education there. He served in the Marines during 1943, '44 and '45, and, at the end of World War II went to San Jose State College. Following his graduation from San Jose the young man attended the General Motors Institute at Flint, Michigan, and then returned to the Peninsula to sell Buicks for Cliff Jones in Monterey. From 1953 to '55 Fred served as appliance manager for Wilder and Jones, leaving that company to become sales manager for Butts Cadillac.

The new Stanley Appliance Company has both sales and service departments, and Dale Stookey, formerly with Wilder and Jones, will continue with Stanley Appliance, head of the service department.

Mr. Stanley is a member of the Lions Club, the Elks Lodge and the Marine Corps League. Last year he was runner-up for the Monterey Junior Chamber of Commerce Young Man of the Year.

LITTLE EIGHT TRACK MEET AT HOLLISTER

Coast Counties Athletic League B-section track championships will be decided this Saturday on the Hollister oval as eight schools match swift and power for league medals and trophies. Defending champion King City will again be the one to beat in the hotly-contested Little Eight. The Mustangs have a well-balanced squad with performers who can pick up points in all thirteen events. League records are certain to topple in several events as Carmel's Phil White sets his sights on the pole-vault mark and King City's weight duo of Schmidt and Lafferty start tossing the shot and discus.

Consensus of track experts shows the Carmel Padres in a fine position to upset the Powerful Mustang aggregation and take home the league title. The Carmel squad is loaded with potential first-place winners and has exceptional power in the pole-vault, distance races, and broad-jump. Phil White, a 13-foot vaulter should take first place in the high-flying event and he will receive a lot of support from Nick Vertin and Pat Boyle. Frank Wallace, Pete Hansen, and Bill Kearney give the Padres plenty of punch in the mile and half-mile events while Dennis Peavey and Phil White could go one-two in the broad-jump. Hurdlers Al Dahlstrand and Bill Harder might hold the key to the meet victory if they can get inside the King City and Pacific Grove hurdlers. Both boys are flirting with school records in the timber-topping events and could win both the lows and highs. Although King City has a powerful hand in the discus and shot, Carmel's Bill Hicks and Dave Vincent have a chance to cut in for some points in the weight events.

The final outcome of the meet shapes up as close enough to have the relay decide the whole thing. If it comes down to a relay-deciding meet, Carmel may have the answer with Craig Smith, David Farr, Frank Wallace, and Bill Harder.

Saturday's meet gets underway at 10:00 o'clock with the trials slated to be finished by 12:30 and the finals starting about 1:30.

Monterey Founded For The Church And Marketplace

By J. William MacLennan

CONCLUSION

Gold seekers soon began to arrive in California in large numbers, sometimes in bands, living off the country, stealing horses and slaughtering cattle, and robbing whenever they saw a chance. And there was no force to stop them. The American soldiers and sailors, stationed in California, whose pay was $7.00 a month, had deserted in large numbers. As a result, Governor Riley decided to organize California as a state and to ask admission to the union so that he would have sufficient authority to handle the situation. As you know, the constitutional convention met in Colton Hall. Sometimes the delegates argued angrily, but finally agreed on some fundamental issues, amongst these, that California would be a free state since the native Californians were not used to slavery and would not stand for it, and also on equal property rights for women, unknown in some states where women and children were the property of the husbands who could will them to whomever they pleased.

As was to be expected there was much hospitality during the convention, especially in the home of Senor Abrego, who had the only piano in Monterey; in that of Senor Sobranes, where there was dancing every night; in the homes of Thomas Larkin and Rev. Walter Colton, who entertained a few of the delegates each night; and most of all in the home of the witty Dona Maria de las Angustias de la Guerra de Jimineo. It is said that she greatly admired Dr. Ord, who was living in Monterey, and wanted her daughter to marry him. When the daughter said she had other ideas, Dona Maria married Dr. Ord herself.

On Sept. 13 the delegates held their final meeting. After a few pertinent remarks by the chairman of the delegates, concluding with, "And, now, fellow delegates, you will affix your signatures to the Constitution of California," the flag was unfurled to the breeze before Colton Hall, the cannon at the Presidio thundered, and the delegates cheered lustily. Then Captain Sutter said, "Gentlemen, this is the happiest day of my life. This is a great day for California." As he sat down, tears filling his eyes, the delegates cheered themselves hoarse.

The one hundredth anniversary of that event, as you know was celebrated ten years ago by a pageant in the grounds of the Monterey College. To me, that celebration is very vivid. I took the part of the Chairman of the Delegates in that pageant and was able to watch each night that charming, delightful panorama of the history of Monterey. I wish it could have become an annual affair. Santa Barbara celebrates its past annually in the Old Spanish Days fiesta, which I proposed and planned. Yet Monterey has had a far more romantic past than Santa Barbara.

One by one the delegates and visitors to the convention departed from Monterey and the little town, once the capital and most important city in Alta California, sank into a quiet peaceful slumber. She saw the world go by her door and built a metropolis to the north, and only recently has she awakened to her great possibilities.

This awakening came through the increased activity at Fort Ord, the establishment of the Post Graduate Naval Academy on the former Del Monte Hotel property, the Language School at the Presidio, and the possibility that a branch of the University of California may be located there. Monterey, and by Monterey I mean the whole peninsula, with its gorgeous scenery, excellent climate, and romantic past, can become one of the outstanding recreational, cultural, and educational centers of our country if its citizens awake to its possibilities. God made the country, but man makes the city.

State Invites Bids For Resurfacing Down Coast Highway

The State Division of Highways will call for bids April 30 on a project for replacing retaining walls, placing stone rip-rap, and resurfacing on sections of State Sign Route 1 between the San Luis Obispo-Monterey County Line and one mile north of Big Sur.

Bids will be opened in Sacramento on May 20, and construction will begin late in June.

The work consists of constructing reinforced concrete bin type retaining walls at four locations along Sign Route 1, where the existing redwood timber cribbing has faded or where a slip-out or settlement has caused the adjacent roadway to become a hazard for two-way traffic. At a fifth location, the existing cribbing will be replaced with light stone rip-rap. The roadway at the above locations will then be reconstructed and paved with plant-mixed surfacing.

A total of $250,000 has been made available for the project, which was included in the 1959-60 State highway budget by the California Highway Commission.
